Are You Booking The Talent Your Customers Want?

Are you booking the red hot talent your customers are dying to see? That's the way to build a solid, free-spending fanatical customer core for your business.

What do your customers really want? They want great musicians and talented singers. They want to hear rolling, rollicking rhythms and great stories about love, drinking, and the emotions of life. They want true American song writing genius.

Now you can book Steve Bedunah. Who's Steve Bedunah?

He is a fast rising star in the Americana genre. America hungers for a return to quality songs. Only a few writers are filling this need. Bedunah is one of them.

Who's Listening to Steve Bedunah?

After the release of his first album, Hand Me Down Land, major music critics from Nashville to Texas were struck by the polish, originality, literary depth, and sheer musical energy of his songs.

He has been compared to Johnny Cash, James

McMurtry, Tom Russell, and Guy Clark.

Robert Oermann, Nashville's most famous and sternest critic wrote in Music Row magazine about Bedunah, "you notice you're in the presence of a major songwriter."

The recent release of his second album Plug It In And Play is garnering equal acclaim. It is a mesmerizing body of work, currently spinning all across America. USA Today chose the song "Plug It In And Play" for its Music Play List.

Background and Bio

Steve was born and grew up in Texas. He currently lives in Wichita Falls. Bedunah's songs range from high energy mind ripping rhythms to poetical ballads.

Steve uses a harsh, mythic land as a backdrop for his psychological vignettes - characters, urban and country, who chronicle the affairs of the human heart and their attempts to celebrate life.

Although he classifies himself as Americana, his work includes blues, blue grass, roots, whiskey blues, and country progressive.

The Bottom Line

If you are looking for seat-filling talent and music professionalism, book Steve Bedunah.
